

NCCTI Welcomes Emerging Leaders

New Community Career & Technical Institute (NCCTI) hosted a group of individuals who are part of the Emerging Leaders Council, a new initiative launched by Local Initiatives Support Corporation (LISC). The new council is made up of people from throughout the country that come from a variety of industries and backgrounds. The group toured the main campus of NCCTI June 28 with Director Rodney Brutton, along with Greater Newark LISC Program Officer Jerrah Crowder.

NCCTI is an accredited post-secondary career and technical school. For more information, visit newcommunitytech.edu or call 973-824-6484.

NCCTI Director Rodney Brutton, center, discusses the variety of services provided by New Community Corporation and NCCTI.

Greater Newark LISC Program Officer Jerrah Crowder, second from right, discusses the relationship New Community and LISC have had over the years.